MISS MARJORIE MORGAN in the title role of "The Sweetest Girl In Dixie" gives Hippodrome patrons the assurance of a charming character portrayal in this delightful play of the Sunny South. This is Miss Morgan's first opportunity to play lead with the Lewis-Oliver Company and those of us who have observed closely her work here during the season can easily work up a before-hand idea of what is in store. Nearly every other member of the company has at one time or another during the engagement assumed leading roles, but it falls to Miss Morgan's lot to be cast in a part to which she takes as naturally as a blue grass colonel avoids water. The Lewis-Oliver players enter on the last lap of their present engagement and the thousands of regulars and now-and-then who have been pleased with the work of this company of excellent players will no doubt crowd the Hipp the balance of the week to enjoy a good show and pay their farewell respects.

"A Little Girl in a Big City" gave two showings at the Grand yesterday. It was not a moving picture.

The second installment of "The Lass of the Lumberland" is at the Ideal today. Helen Holmes is surrounded by a company of competent performers and the scenic effects of this episode are among the best of the series.

The DeHavens—Carter and Flora—are starred in "A Youth of Fortune," a five-act Red Feather Photoplay at the Princess today.

Friday night, instead of the "Country Store" at the Hippodrome, "The Drug Store" will be substituted as a climax to a long series of prize given features. Forty dollars worth of staple drugs and sundries from a local druggist will be distributed among the audience. The original sum had been fixed at $35, but the management has five dollars prize money remaining over from Wednesday night and it has been decided to add this to the Friday night allotment.

Richard Glanceton has one hobby—one, that we know of. It's his nightly "constitutional." Every night after the performance one can see him leave the theatre by way of the stage door and take long strides across the South Side bridge, and way beyond that, he goes. He has no objective point, just simply walks until he thinks he's had enough, then gets back to his apartments and puts in an hour or more studying new parts. He says he's as regular in this as he is with his meals.

When the Lewis-Oliver players return to the city there will be some new faces in the company. A new member is being secured from New York to play the woman leads.

"The Yankee Doodle Girls" company is unable to fill the date given them by the Hipp management and a switch has been made in the arrangements which will bring them here a week later. In their stead "Gerards Record Breakers" will be the opener. This comedy organization is playing Clarkburg this week and there are twelve members in the company—all live ones. The tab lovers will lose nothing by this change as it only means a transposition of dates.

Blanche Sweet, who won her way into the hearts of local photoplay patrons by her clever performance in "A Thousand Dollar Husband," is at the Grand today in "The Dupe," a story which discloses some strange and interesting evolutions of modern society.

Pauline LeRoy and Charles Montgomery will furnish the laugh making material in "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie." Both will appear in black face. We've had a sample of Charlie's work in this line and found it 18 karat, but Miss LeRoy is handing us a new one. We remember, however, she once told us that her varied experience included musical comedy, but we never dreamed she was a burnt cork artist, too.

Pennsylvania Guests
Mrs. Mary Sayers Koehne, Miss Elizabeth Sayers and Mrs. William Parry, of Waynesburg, Pa., motored here today and are guests of the latter's daughter, Mrs. A. L. Lehman on Walnut avenue. Mrs. Koehne will address the East side Bible class tonight on the suffrage question.

Four Bodies Yet Unfound in Mine

Two weeks ago today Jamison Mine No. 7 was destroyed by an explosion. Since that time there have been six bodies of the unfortunate in the mine when it exploded recovered. There are still four in the mine. Those recovered were Harry Drenney, B. L. Vincent, John Foster, Frank Higginbotham, A. W. Vance, Ishak Leasure. The bodies remaining in the mine are those of A. L. Chapman, J. Fagan, M. W. Allison and James Menear. Efforts are still being made by those in charge of the mine to locate the bodies inside but at two o'clock this afternoon none of the four had been seen.

TO SHOW STUDENTS JUST HOW TO VOTE

Girls As Well as Boys May Vote in High School Election.

A trial election will be held at the Fairmont High school on next Monday when the pupils will be given a practical demonstration of how to vote in a real election. The pupils will vote with regard to their residence in the eight wards in the city and eight voting places will be established with clerks, commissioners and challengers in each precinct.

Sample ballots duplicating the real ballots to be used in the presidential election on Tuesday will be used and each pupil regardless of sex will be permitted to vote. The polls will be opened from 1 o'clock until 4:15 when the polls will be closed and the actual counting of the ballots will begin. The election commissioners will be furnished with tally sheets in order to facilitate the counting of the ballots.

Prof. G. F. Colebank assisted by members of the faculty have charge of the trial election and it is their idea to carry the election out as a real election would be carried out and thereby give the pupils of the school, many of whom will soon become voters, a practical demonstration of the methods of voting.

The idea of holding this election originated in the Civic training classes of the school. The pupils of the school are much interested in the outcome of the election and are taking active interest in the scheme.

AS BLACK AS YOUR HAT

YES—THAT'S OLD BLACK JOE COUGH SYRUP

Look for that good old colored man's face on the package and label. The syrup is as black as his face and just as kind and honest—not a drop of opium or habit-forming narcotic drugs in it, but my!—how it does get down to that sore spot. The phlegm loosens, the soreness disappears and relief is instant.

You can't afford to risk cough syrups that contain dangerous drugs. Just insist on Old Black Joe Cough Syrup and be safe. Good for children as well as for grown-ups. A big bottle for 25 cents.

MRS. CARRIE HOUGH FUNERAL IS TODAY

Quartette Sings at Service Conducted by Revs. Goodwin and Stoetzer.

Funeral services over the body of Mrs. Carrie V. Hough, whose death occurred on Tuesday, were held this afternoon from her late residence on Madison street. Rev. C. E. Goodwin, of the First M. E. church, conducted the services assisted by Dr. H. G. Stoetzer of the First Presbyterian church.

A quartet from the Methodist church choir composed of Miss Edna Jacobs, Mrs. W. S. Hamilton, W. D. Barrington and I. N. Lough rendered several selections of music including "Rock of Ages," "Abide With Me" and "Some Time We'll Understand."

At the conclusion of the services the body was conveyed to Woodlawn cemetery where it was interred. The pall bearers were Messrs. F. G. Boydston, H. F. Smith, W. S. Hamilton, F. E. Nichols, Alfred Hood and Neal Jarrett.

Among relatives here for the services were Will Pinnell and daughter, Miss Mildred, of Clarksburg; Mrs. Fred Price, of Marietta, O.; Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, of Clarksburg; Mrs. John Musgrave and daughter, Sarah, of Grafton; Mrs. George Snodgrass, Miss Nellie Annans, Mrs. P. M. Lough, of Farmington.

He realizes the need of more restaurants of a high class in the city and is working from that viewpoint. The Manley hotel also intends opening up a restaurant in the old sample room to do away with the tables in the present lunch room in the Manley pool room. This adds two restaurants to the city's four already on hand.

Mrs. A. D. Simon returned last evening from Clarksburg where she had spent a few days.
